DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-21 and 33-40 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-19 of U.S. Patent No. 6,635,921. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the pending claims appear to be different ways of claiming the same structural features as the patented claims. With respect to claim 1, patented claim 1 describes the elements of a planar transistor and a vertical transistor on the planar transistor. A series of planar transistors, as in pending claim 1, would have been obvious because memory cells are laid out in lines, as shown in figure 2 of the reference, for example, and the designation of "unit" memory cell is arbitrary. Pending claim 13 describes exactly the same structural features as the patented claims, with data line and word line, for example, being recited in patented claim 1. The storage node formed "only on a first portion of the channel region," (claim 33), and a gate layer that is laterally offset (claim 38) read on the undercut regions (patented claim 4, figure 3A) which provide a gate layer that does not extend across the entire underlying channel.
